Dear Professor Puleston:

This is to tell you how pleased I am over your recent promotion with tenure to associate professor.

My own overriding commitment is to quality, and since promotion with tenure represents the best judgement among peers that quality has been achieved, it is an especially significant event for both you and the institution.

I hope you will accept my genuine congratulations for this mark of recognition of your achievements. I share with you in the continued dedication to excellence, and it is comforting to know that I am among such able colleagues who set our standards by their own example.

With all good wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,
